

CAPCO ACADEMY BLACKBOARD

MAKING COMPLIANCE EASY

Capco's Training Academy offers a wide range of cost-effective services to augment and/or administer your federal compliance training program. Our subject matter experts are knowledgeable in all facets of federal consumer protection regulations and uniquely positioned to serve your training needs. We support our clients with the design and development of new employee training, customized training for lending and deposit personnel, as well as boarding of director's training. We take into consideration the size and complexity of your institution to construct and deliver comprehensive training.

LEARNING & DEVELOPMENT (L&D)

We develop our training content and delivery methods to ensure clarity and comprehension, to meet the unique needs of each institution, and to promote a culture of continuous learning. Our training may focus solely on regulatory or compliance requirements or enhance existing training modules to include an institution's policies and procedures. Our training modules are designed to incorporate client and topic-specific workbooks, case studies, articles, quizzes, and manuals.

OUR APPROACH

Our L&D framework combines our engagement scoping principles with transformative design thinking techniques to rapidly drive sustainable process re-engineering and rationalization in alignment with our client's needs, values and priorities. Our experienced and diverse team brings decades of insight to course design and development for our clients.

OUR EXPERTISE

Our experts keep current with changes across the regulatory and compliance space, including many disparate elements that can affect a covered persons' ability to comply with federal and state consumer laws and regulations. This broad focus ensures our learning and development content focuses on the most critical elements in governance, risk and compliance.
